

Rebecca Patton, DNP, RN, CNOR, FAAN

Dr. Patton is currently Chair, Lucy Jo Atkinson Professorship in Perioperative Nursing, and Assistant Professor at the Frances Payne Bolton School of Nursing at Case Western Reserve University in Ohio.

She is past president of the American Nurses Association. She has won numerous awards and was inducted as Fellow in the American Academy of Nursing. She has also been named Modern Health Care Top 100 Most Influential Person in Health Care.

Her work includes research and publications in the topics of health policy, perioperative nursing safety, leadership, and team behavior. She received her Doctor of Nursing Practice, and MSN at Case Western Reserve University and her BSN at Kent State University.

